

Billy B

~ Spring Dates - April 15, 17, 18 ~

Billy B, "The Natural Science Song and Dance Man", has been singing and dancing for many years, with kids and families from Alaska to Florida, Maine to Hawaii. He has performed in 46 states, for two Presidents, at the White House, on the Main Stage of Wolf Trap, Eisenhower Hall at the Kennedy Center, Center Stage in Central Park NYC, 92 Street Y, in hundreds of theaters and at thousands of schools. He has been commissioned by a number of leading organizations, including National Geographic.

"Billy B was up to the task to adapt his "Climate, Let's Define It" into a virtual school enrichment program to create an engaging, informative, and fun experience for our elementary students! Using integrated audio and video technology, Billy was able to share his songs and dances about the climate, weather and our environment. He also was able to get the students to participate virtually so that they felt like they were part of the show."
