

Roxy Savage

Roxy Savage is an Interdisciplinary Artist and a seasoned HOT Schools Master Teaching Artist.

Roxy Savage is an interdisciplinary artist investigating female identity and domestic space. Her artworks include installation, pedagogical teaching systems, digitally activated sculpture, printmaking, photography, and time-based media. Savage's work explores female stereotypes through food (jello), text, objects (kitchenalia), daily experiences, and pop culture. Making and teaching are essential to her alchemic process.

MFA, SVA, MS.Ed, Queens College, BFA, Pratt Institute