

Sanna Stanley

Sanna's engaging arts integration engages delightful student voice and unique student choices.

Award winning author/illustrator Sanna Stanley's arts integrated programming entices students into walking words into stories and making images talk. Sanna elicits authentic student choice and student voice. Because of her own cross-cultural history she excels at drawing out and celebrating diverse stories in each classroom.

A CT Office of the Arts and CT Center for Nonviolence artist, Sanna is trained in higher order thinking, MI, inquiry based learning, and trauma-informed teaching.

"Sanna really connects with the students she works with. She finds ways to make them believe in themselves, and that is a special gift!"
